1

Program Overview

- Offer 2 hybrid programs:
 - Statewide Blended (80:20)
 - F2F – Summer Institute, monthly ITV sessions
 - Weekend (70:30)
 - F2F – Kick-Off, monthly weekend sessions
- Both programs are part-time, year-round
 - Regular and Advanced-Standing options
- Typical student:
 - Nontraditional, many life demands, work FT/PT in the field, cannot attend traditional campus-based program

2

3

Cohort Model

- Programs are lock-step
- Students must complete coursework according to schedule - each required course only offered 1x during the program
- Complete all required coursework together

4

Team Building

- Main focus during 1st F2F meeting
 - Ice-breakers
 - Getting to know classmates
 - Group contracts
 - Discuss goals for the program & hopes for the future
 - Points of connection
 - Empathic learning

5

How the “Blend” Helps Create
“The Best of Both Worlds”

- Chose these programs for the “blend”
 - Not fully online – F2F decreases isolation
 - F2F provides overview of what’s to come
 - Promotes more communication
 - Online “study group” for students to discuss material

Relationships Matter... in Hybrid Programs

MSU has determined the following in 10+ years:

- Face-to-face component adds a richness, unavailable in strictly online programs
- Teaching through relationships is a key value
- As programs grow, building relationships is critical

Marc Smith - Weekend Program

THE FOUR "R"s:

- Relationships
"It's important to not forget about the benefits of personal relationships when it comes to the success of all students, especially those of us in the social work field."
- Responsibility
- Respect
"True experience with cultural diversity."
- Rewards

Synergy

- "The interaction of elements that when combined produce a total effect that is greater than the sum of the individual elements, contributions, etc" Dictionary.com

Synchronization

- "When people talk to one another in person, up close and face-to-face, their brains synchronize, especially in the left inferior frontal cortex, an area associated with empathy and social cognition" Colvin, 2015.

Unconscious Elements

- non verbal cues, body language, tone of voice/inflection

10

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Crystal Hughes - Statewide Blended Program

- Connectedness
 - Feel connected to one another
- Support
 - Someone who share in your struggles, fears, accomplishments, achievements, motivation, support and encouragement
- Real People
 - Face to face contact, not just words on a discussion forum
